CHURCH BOILER REPAIRS

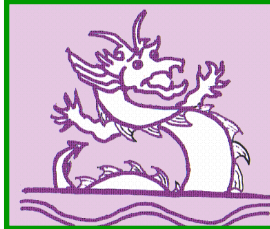

The repairs to the boiler have taken a little longer than we expected and means that there is NO HEATING just now. This should be completed in November and we expect that it will be fixed before Remembrance Sunday, but please dress even more warmly than usual for the time being.

This is a call to action as replacing the existing system is now a priority (spare parts are increasingly difficult to obtain), we hope (and pray) that we have years and not months to plan for the replacement, but need to start the process now

If you have any experience of (or practical ideas for) heating large empty spaces we would love to hear from you.
